EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION

Preparing for the season of Advent..., "we need to fold our hands again, bend our knees and bow our egos in Adoration before God, so that His salvation can be effective. All modern arrogance breaks down here, but at the same time, all our helplessness and loneliness will be opened up and filled with Divine warmth and healed by Divine consecration."

-Alfred Delp, Priest and Martyr-

Prepare for Christ's coming... make prayer before the Eucharist in Adoration a MUST!

Adoration scheduled for 12/1, begins at 9:30am- ends at 6:00pm with Benediction

Joseph's Workbench

If I told you there was something that could reduce illness, mental and physical, by 30%, would you take it? You might say it's too good to be true, or wonder what the catch is. Hold those questions, because they are good ones, first, let me reveal this miracle method: going to church!

A recent article summarized a new study confirming previous ones, that church attendance correlates with good health, the article states:

In previous studies, VanderWeele had discovered that weekly service attendance in adulthood was associated with “about 30 percent reductions in all-cause mortality, 30 percent reduction to the incidence of depression, [and] fivefold reductions in suicides.”

Now this is an association or correlation, not necessarily a cause. For instance, regular exercise improves one's health, I'm not very regular in my exercise, so my improvement from church attendance may well be less than that of attendees who exercise. But this good outcome of church attendance is a long-standing finding of sociological surveys.

And the benefits of church attendance show up in studies of youth too:

Furthermore, “regular service attendance helps shield children from the ‘big three’ dangers of adolescence: depression, substance abuse, and premature sexual activity,” VanderWeele writes in his latest article for Christianity Today. “People who attended church as children are also more likely to grow up happy, to be forgiving, to have a sense of mission and purpose, and to volunteer.”

We are now entering Advent, a time of preparation for welcoming Jesus on Christmas. It is also an excellent time to invite friends and family to church to renew their faith. Don't be afraid to tell them “going to church is good for you!”

Heart speaks to heart,

Fr. Rob Hyde

Your Coming

Great God,
We need to remember
that how things are now is not how they've always been;
and it's not how they always
will be.

We need to remember
that your kingdom has come,
that it is growing among us now,
and that the time will come when it fills the world with justice and love.

And so we pray for your coming,
to those around the world
whose poverty, pain, trauma, and grief
make your kingdom feel like a pipe dream;
to those in our community
who long to see your love and justice
expressed through your followers;
to those in your Church
who seek to be faithful and
to make a difference
while juggling the needs of themselves
and their families;
and to us,
who long to know you more,
and to live as citizens of your kingdom
in this place and time.

May your coming be something we hope for,
but also be something we experience
moment by moment.

In Jesus' Name,
Amen.

A Rite for the Beginning of Advent at Home

As our nights grow longer and our days grow short, we look on these earthly signs-- light and green branches-- and remember God's promise to our world: Christ, our Light and our Hope, will come. Listen to the words of Isaiah the prophet: The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; on those who lived in a land as dark as death a light has dawned. You have increased their joy and given them gladness; They rejoice in your presence as those who rejoice at harvest, as warriors exult when dividing spoil. (Is. 9:1-2)

O God,
rejoicing,
we remember the promise of your Son.
As the light from this candle,
may the blessing of Christ come upon us,
brightening our way
and guiding us by his truth.
May Christ our Savior bring life
into the darkness of our world,
and to us, as we wait for his coming.
We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen
